Nature has been especially generous to Canada in providing stupendous variety of areas of great extent and fertility in widely separated parts of the country. Canada is fortunate, too, in possessing a system of national parks which can be used both for the maintenance of health and morale at home and the attraction of tourists from abroad.

In addition to the 26 areas covering more than 27,500 square miles under federal administration as national parks, other areas are being considered for development. More than 10,000 square miles in the Yukon Territory have been set aside reserved for possible extension of the national parks system.

Additional national parks have been offered by the Province of Quebec and one by New Brunswick, and Quebec looking toward the extension of the national parks system to the east.

It is expected that other areas reserved for the most suitable areas in the world as national parks will be developed in the future.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

FEBRUARY 8

JESUS FEEDS THE MULTITUDES

Golden text: I am the bread of life.

Read verses in Matthew 14:13-21.

Lesson: Mark 6:30-52; 8:1-10.

Devotional: Psalm 136:1-5.

Mark 6:30. And when the day was far spent, his disciples came unto him, and said, The place is desolate, and the day is now far spent; send them away, that they may go and buy themselves bread to eat.

But he answered and said unto them, Give ye them to eat. And they say unto him, Shall we go and buy two hundred denarii worth of bread, and give them to eat? And he saith unto them, How many loaves have ye? ye say, Five. And when they knew these things, they said unto him, And he commanded them that all should sit down by companies upon the grass. And they sat down in fifties and in tens. And he took the five loaves and the two fishes, and looked up towards heaven, and blessed, and brake the loaves, and gave them to his disciples, and they gave them to the multitude.

Mark 8:1. In those days, when there were about four thousand men, and they had nothing to eat, he called unto him, and said, Give me compassion on this multitude, because they continue with me now three days, and have eaten nothing. And he said unto them, Give me compassion on this multitude, because they continue with me now three days, and have eaten nothing.

Mark 8:2. And he said unto them, Give me compassion on this multitude, because they continue with me now three days, and have eaten nothing.

Mark 8:3. And he said unto them, Give me compassion on this multitude, because they continue with me now three days, and have eaten nothing.

Mark 8:4. And he said unto them, Give me compassion on this multitude, because they continue with me now three days, and have eaten nothing.

word to protect us from the inevitable. Then it was revolution in Germany. We waited day by day, confident of its coming. When that failed we thought of bombing Germany into submission in a short space of time and at relatively small cost. But Germany has withstood the blows as Britain survived them. Now, because events turn in our favour, we think of victory as almost won, though we ourselves did not expect defeat when the successes were the other way. We are deluding ourselves when we believe that victory can be won without a bitter war. The other day Peyton C. March, the old gray general who as Chief of Staff put two million American troops in France in the Great War, offered him comfort to those who believe that war is at most.

You can't whip Germany," he said, "by whipping somebody in Senegambia. This country is in for a fight when the ablest soldiers start pouring out and the wounded start pouring in. This war hasn't even started. Wait until Germany and Japan start fighting on another front, and then we'll have even the children fight inch by inch to hold their fatherland. We can lose this war right here at home, thinking it almost over."

These are cold words. They are worth remembering. They tell of something we must learn. When the story of the war is fully told, the word "Orson," and the names of other battles yet to be, will be written on Canadian hearts by sacrifice as cruel as were those of Vimy and Passchendaele and Cambrai.

Yes, victory may come in 1944. But before that comes we must face its terrible cost. It will be well for us here at home to search our own hearts for the things that will give us heart in these days, praying for life, praying for courage, praying for devotion, praying that the faithful hearts of the Queen's Home Front are ready to make courage and devotion possible.

And we—men and women at home, as well as our boys at the front—must realize that the trial is at hand and that it will touch us all—what will we be thinking? Will we be wondering whether we shall take the holiday from the shift? Or ways to circumvent this rule or that? Of whether we could not use our money to better advantage than investing it in this case? Of what personal advantage we can secure from the strained situations involved by war.

Or will we be thinking of the boys to whom life is dear, to us, who are holding these young lives so lightly, waiting for the hour, ready for the sacrifice? Surely the price of victory is a common price, a common sacrifice. (Signed), Joseph Lister Rutledge.

LET'S ASK OURSELVES
Accusations charged with high emotion can be the blockbusters of the home front—as devastating as a four-ton high-explosive bomb. In a year forecast as "Victory Year," it may be natural for individuals and groups to relax and begin to think of fishy again. And the result could be a barrage of charges and counter-charges that threaten to divide the country.

Any division of this sort weakens and discomfort to the enemy. It almost does in France, says this and who says that, who is right and who is wrong. Victory will be delayed and made more costly. And there is danger that we, as a nation, may come out of the war more divided than when we went in, and that we may be scarred as a total win.

Let us ask ourselves frankly what we can do about this situation. When difficulties arise, it is natural to want to pin the blame on somebody. But even if the other fellow is selfish and uncharitable, merely hurling accusations at him can only widen the breach. Pleading with him is no better in its practical results. Selfish defence seldom moved by an appeal to their unselfishness. Nor by argument about the need of working for the greatest good of the greatest number.

Preserves Rations Increased

Value of D coupons for preserves will be doubled, on or after February 1, the Wartime Prices and Trade Board announced. Because of the increased supply position, preserves will now be able to purchase 20 food coupons of canned fruit per coupon, instead of the original 10 food coupons.

Housewives will also be able to purchase 40 coupons of maple syrup, and four coupons will now buy a gallon. This increase is effective until May 31, after which the quantity will reduce to 24 coupons per coupon.

Likewise the ration of maple syrup is to be increased from half a pound to two pounds per gallon during the whole year.

Raffin, jam, jelly, maple butter and honey butter increases from 10 to 12 food coupons, and molasses from 20 food coupons (one pint) to 40 food coupons (two pints). Canned fruit, case or any liquid type has been increased from 14 to 16 coupons, but cranberry sauce remains at a coupon value of 12 food coupons.

Star, Walker, Fischer, Greig, (each owner of the Queen's Home Front) is a volunteer in Delia, the beginning of this week.

Mrs. C. E. Henson returned on Friday night, following an extended visit with her daughter in the United States.

Byron G. Moore, S.T.E.S., arrived by bus Saturday on week end leave at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Moore.

Fred Ashton, R.C.A.F., arrived by bus Saturday, and spent some time at the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Moore.

We regret to announce the death of Mrs. Charles E. Grier, which occurred at her home, south-east of Delia, on Tuesday morning of this week.

On Saturday, January 25th, a campaign was conducted by Messrs. E. Leckie & Co., Hardware and T. Chapman, at the Home Front Appeal in connection with the Hanna Group of Delia, which resulted in the sum of $62.00 was raised.

Congratulations to Jan Scott, 82, on his 82nd birthday. He is a Delia old-timer. The former, although now a little deaf, is still hale and hearty, and lives right out of town on the farm and in his family. For Mr. Leckie, he still can do a day's work with the best of them. May both continue to live in the best of health, and be spared for many more years to come.

Spring arrived! New Spring samples of fine wools, tweeds and serges for suits and coats from $28.50. Ladies' suits and coats, made to measure, from $28.50. Style and fit guaranteed. Cleaning, pressing and dyeing. Ask for Empire Cleaning and Dyeing Co., and Premier Laundry. Leave your orders with—Thos. F. Rieger, Tailor.

Ninety-two members of the Canadian Women's Army Corps (CWAC) arrived at the week-end from Nov. 2, C.W.A.C. Basic Training Centre, Vermilion. It was the first graduating class in 1944, and included girls from Saskatchewan, 22 from Alberta, 16 from Manitoba, and two from Ontario. With five years of fundamental training behind them the girls will be posted to various military districts in Canada. Among graduates are Kathleen F. Nimmo, and Gwenolyn G. Paynter, of Delia.

Card of Thanks
To our neighbors and friends, who were so kind in their personal visits and other tokens of kindness shown Mr. Sweet, during his recent illness in hospital, we wish to convey our very sincere thanks.

Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Sweet.

To get a job done better, a change of heart will often do more than a change of hands.

The problem after the war is not so much distribution of our force as rehabilitation of our facilities.

SEED SUPPLIES
Available stocks of seed oats and barley will probably be depleted rapidly this winter. There is an acute shortage of Alberta and northern Saskatchewan, from January last to the present.

We have completed germination tests on 107 samples of seed oats, 145 (24%) of the germinated 60% or less, 125 samples (12%) of the 60% or more.

When To Get New Seed
If one's seed is low in percentage and vigor of germination, it is not the best variety for the particular district. If it is mixed with seed of other varieties, or if it has been badly damaged in handling.

A good uniform stand can only be obtained with good seed. Good seed is a definite investment to the grower.

How To Get It
Simply select a country elevator in which the agent is an authorized distributor. Crop Improvement Association. He has not only the seed, but also the information on officially recommended varieties.

Crop Improvement, Extension, Seed Growers' Association and Elevator Companies.

It is usually an exaggeration to say that the seed is the most important factor in crop production. It is usually a very important factor, but it is not the only one. It is usually a very important factor, but it is not the only one. It is usually a very important factor, but it is not the only one.

Proper Highway Signs Urged

Need of early improvement of signs on the provincial highways is to be urged on the provincial government by the Alberta Motor Association. This step was advocated in a resolution adopted at the annual meeting of the A.M.A. in Calgary last week.

As the budget for the next year covering the expenditures of the public works department, will be in the order of preparation, it is planned to press upon the government the need of making adequate provision for improving the highways.

Some of the signs on main highways would make a complete overhaul, it is claimed. Also, there is need of guard rails on hills, approaches to culverts and at highway turns, being repaired.

Since serious accidents have been reported in parts of the province and drivers have acquired the name in part to the poor condition of guard rails.

In view of the volume of motor traffic showing prospects of being increased this year it is to be urged on the government should embark upon an extensive program of road sign improvement.

Many of the secondary highways are also reported to be in need of proper directional signs.

Canadian Certified Seed Potatoes
Should be ordered AT ONCE

PLACE YOUR ORDER NOW, while supplies are still available. Seed potatoes are being withheld from export to meet the requirements of Canadian growers, but the demands from outside Canada are very strong and supplies not needed for planting in Canada should be ordered as early as possible in March before the season in the U.S.A. is too far advanced for planting.

ORDER "CERTIFIED" for Table Stock Production. Larger crops are needed in 1944. Obtain a heavier yield from each acre by planting Canadian Certified Seed Potatoes.

ORDER "FOUNDATION" and "FOUNDATION A" for Certified Seed Production. All fields entered for certification in 1944 must be planted with either "Foundation" or "Foundation A" seed potatoes.
